

Update 5

Patrick Regan

December 8, 2014

By T15, the following updates have occurred:

- The main programs were created: one for methane and one for bromomethane. Both programs were attempted to be combined into a single program; however, the program would not run. In order for the programs to function, they had to be separated.
- The first and second drafts of the documentation were created.

Future plans include the following:

- Documentation of the project needs to be updated after the drafts are edited and revised.
- The presentation for the final project needs to be created and updated from the seminar presentation.
- The website needs to be continuously updated.
